

photo: the balcony is closed with wood boards

In the ground floor there is the café, the office and public toilets. In the first floor you can find the hall for readings, in the third floor is located the library hall with bookshelves and in the fourth floor there are working places, which are shield from the noise of the gallery.

photo: the large window opens the library to the place